EDITORIAL

Dear Readers,

As we conclude the academic year, 2025-2026, Genesis Olympus looks back with pride and satisfaction at the remarkable progress achieved across academics and co-curricular domains. With a clear vision of nurturing confident and responsible 21st-century learners, our academic programmes and activities continue to be purposefully designed to promote holistic development. We sincerely thank parents for partnering with us in reinforcing these shared goals. Students of Grade 10 are appearing for the Board Examinations, and we wish them continued success.

At Genesis Olympus, learning extends beyond classrooms. Alongside strong academics, students actively participated in cultural celebrations, exhibitions, leadership initiatives, sports, ABACUS and national-level competitions, Model United Nations, career guidance sessions, and experiential learning through field trips and special thematic weeks.

Regular updates through our e-magazine SPECTRA, value-based assemblies, civic awareness programmes, and community outreach initiatives strengthened both skills and character. Continuous teacher training, activity-based assessments and multidisciplinary learning remain central to our educational approach.

As we move forward, we remain committed to shaping students into compassionate, capable leaders ready to contribute meaningfully to society. We look forward to continued collaboration with parents in this shared journey of excellence.

Happy reading!!

The Evening Conversation

It was a regular weekday evening. A father returned home tired after work. The mother was finishing dinner while reminding her daughter about her unfinished homework. Their 14-year-old daughter sat quietly at the dining table, scrolling through her phone. "Did you finish your test preparation?" her father asked. She nodded without looking up. "Marks are important this year," he continued. "You know how competitive it is." She nodded again. Dinner was served. Conversations revolved around exams, schedules, and an upcoming competition. After dinner, everyone returned to their rooms. The house was peaceful. Organized. Responsible. But not connected. That night, the daughter messaged her friend: "Sometimes I feel like I'm just expected to do well. Nobody really asks how I'm feeling." The next day at school, she appeared distracted. A teacher assumed she was careless. At home, her silence was mistaken for maturity. No one noticed that she had been struggling with peer pressure and self-doubt for weeks.

This story is not unusual. It reflects many homes today.

Parents care deeply. They want their children to succeed and stay protected from mistakes. Teachers guide, correct, and encourage. Yet in the middle of all this responsibility, something subtle is often missing — emotional safety.

Emotional safety is not about removing discipline or lowering expectations. It is about creating an atmosphere where a child feels safe to say, "I am confused," "I made a mistake," or "I am not okay today," without fear of immediate correction or comparison. When children feel emotionally safe, they open up before problems grow bigger. They ask questions before turning to unreliable sources. They share fears before they turn into anger or withdrawal. In many recent conversations with students, one pattern quietly emerged — children are not asking for fewer rules. They are asking to be understood beyond performance. They want to know that their worth is not tied only to marks or achievements. A home becomes emotionally safe not through grand gestures, but through small shifts.

A Simple Family Practice

Try this once a week:

At dinner or before bedtime, ask your child:

"What is something that felt heavy for you this week?"

Listen without correcting. Resist the urge to advise immediately. Just acknowledge: "I understand. Thank you for sharing." That single moment of calm listening can do more for a child's confidence than many lectures. Because long after children forget what we taught them, they remember whether home felt safe.

Exams Special Issue

The clock ticks loud, the pages turn,
With anxious thoughts of what to learn.
A trembling hand, a worried heart,
Not knowing where to even start.
Exams are here, the pressure's high,
Beneath the tense and watchful sky.

But calm yourself and take a breath,
This is not a fight to death.
The hours you studied, lines you read,
Are shining treasures in your head.
Leave behind the fear and doubt,
Let your confidence come out.

Walk in, be brave, and try your best,
You'll surely pass this little test.
For marks are only just a part
Of the strength within your heart

—POLEPALLI DURGA SUHAS 7F

The Test Within

The silent room, the ticking clock,
The pens that race, the brains that lock.
A moment meant to test your might,
To turn the darkness into light.

But breathe, my friend, and do not fear,
The knowledge lies within you here.
It's just a paper, not the end,
Your worth is more than you comprehend.

So write with faith and hold your cheer,
You've worked too hard to vanish here.
Face the challenge, take your stand,
And grasp the future in your hand.

SHORT STORIES

THE LITTLE SEED'S BIG DREAM

Once upon a time, in a small garden, there lived a tiny seed. Though it was small, it had a big dream. "I want to grow into a tall tree one day," said the seed. The wind laughed, "You are too small!". The stones said, "You are under the soil!" But the seed did not give up. Every day, it drank water and enjoyed the warm sunlight. Slowly, strong roots grew. One morning, a green shoot came out of the soil. Days passed, and the plant grew stronger. Birds rested on it, and butterflies danced around. Soon, the tiny seed became a big, strong tree. It gave shade and fruits to many. Moral of the Story: Believe in yourself and keep trying.

THE BOY AND THE RIVER OF TIME

Once upon a time there was a young boy named Sam who loved to play all day and avoided his chores. One day he met an old man who was busy planting seeds in his garden. Curious? Sam asked, "Why are you working so hard?" The old man smiled and said, "Time is like a river; it flows away and never returns, every moment you waste is like a seed that will never grow."

Sam thought about it and realized he was wasting his precious time. He decided to make each day count, balancing his fun with his responsibilities. Years later, Sam became successful and happy, always grateful for the lesson he learned. He understood that time, once lost, could never be regained, and that each moment was a gift to be cherished.

ARTIFICIAL LUNG SAVES PATIENT BEFORE TRANSPLANT

Surgeons at Northwestern Medicine used a total artificial lung system to keep a critically ill man alive for 48 hours until he received a double-lung transplant. The 33-year-old patient suffered severe damage from influenza and a resistant bacterial infection, leaving his lungs beyond repair. Doctors removed both lungs and connected him to the device, which oxygenated his blood and maintained circulation until donor lungs became available. This breakthrough shows that artificial lungs can save lives when traditional support methods fail and may improve outcomes for patients needing urgent transplants.

SHIELDING THE NATION: GUJARAT'S HIGH-SECURITY SCIENCE HUB

In January 2026, the foundation stone for India's second BSL-4 laboratory was laid in Gandhinagar, Gujarat. This high-security facility will boost India's ability to study dangerous infectious diseases safely. A BSL-4 laboratory is the highest level of biosafety lab, where scientists research life-threatening pathogens under strict safety protocols. The new lab will support advanced biotechnology research, help develop treatments and vaccines, and improve preparedness for future health emergencies. With this addition alongside the existing BSL-4 lab in Pune, India moves closer to a safer, healthier, and more self-reliant future.

MY FAVOURITE BOOK

THE LITTLE PRINCE

BY ANTOINE DE SAINT-EXUPÉRY

My favourite book is The Little Prince by Antoine de Saint-Exupéry. It is a short but meaningful story about a gentle boy from Asteroid B-612. After a pilot crashes in the desert, he meets the Prince, who shares his journey across planets and the strange adults he met. Through his love for the rose and the fox's wisdom, he learns that real love needs responsibility and that what matters is felt with the heart. The book teaches empathy, honesty, and friendship, making it a guide that helps young minds grow kinder and wiser.

- M. SNEHA XE

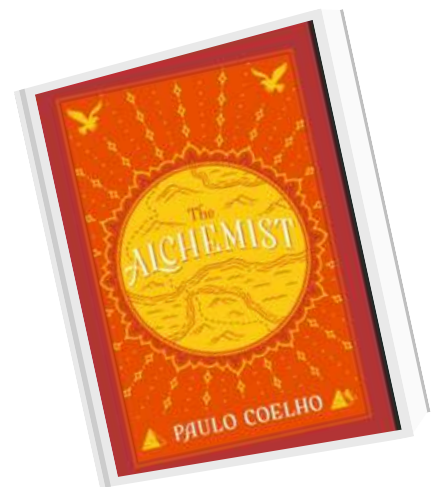

THE ALCHEMIST

BY PAULO COELHO

My favourite book is The Alchemist by Paulo Coelho. It is special because it teaches powerful life lessons in a simple and engaging way. The story follows a shepherd boy, Santiago, who dreams of finding a hidden treasure. His journey becomes one of self-discovery. The author highlights the importance of following one's dreams, or one's "Personal Legend," with courage, patience, and faith. The book shows that challenges help us grow. It changed the way I think about life and inspires me to believe in my dreams and work hard to achieve them.

LEGACY OF SACRIFICE: HONOURING INDIA'S MARTYRS

Martyr day [30 Jan] Martyr's Day is organized nationally on 30 January to mark the assassination of Mahatma Gandhi in 1948 by Nathuram Godse. On martyr's day the president, the vice president, the prime minister, the defense minister, the Chief of defense staff and the three service staff chiefs gather at the samadhi at Raj Ghat memorial wreath decorated with multi-color flowers. The armed forces personnel blow bugles, sounding the last post. The inter-services contingent reverse arms are a mark of respect. A two-minute silence in memory of Indian martyrs is offered throughout the country at 11 a.m. participants hold all-religion prayers and sing tributes. Martyrs remind us to uphold integrity, stand by our convictions, and live in alignment with our principles, even when it is difficult. A thought to carry forward:

"The true measure of courage is not in avoiding fear, but in standing firm for what is right, even when it costs everything."

MY PARENTS – THE GUIDING STARS OF MY LIFE

My mother is my first inspiration. She teaches me everything with love and care. She explains things kindly and helps me understand and makes me feel always happy. Because of her job, now she is in different place. Even though she is far away, she daily helps me in doing homework through video call, encourages me and teaches me good habits. Her dedication to her work and love for me and family inspires me to be disciplined and caring. I learn from her that we can balance responsibilities with love and patience.

TEACHER'S REFLECTION

🌸 ఎగిరే గాలిపటం విద్యార్థి అయితే- ఆధారమైన దారం గురువు! 🌸

జెనెసిస్ విద్యాసంస్థలో హైస్కూల్ తెలుగు ఉపాధ్యాయురాలిగా చేరి సప్త వసంతాలు పూర్తయ్యాయి. జెనెసిస్ కుటుంబంలో నా ప్రయాణం ఆనందదాయకంగా, సార్థకంగా కొనసాగుతోంది. దీనికి ప్రధాన కారణం మా యాజమాన్యపు ఔన్నత్యభావాలు, ప్రజ్ఞావంతమైన ఆలోచనలు, వ్యూహాత్మక అనుసరణలు మరియు వినూత్న ధోరణులు. వారు అందించిన నిరంతర ప్రోత్సాహం నాకు ఉత్సాహం, ఆత్మవిశ్వాసం, మానసిక ధైర్యాన్ని పెంపొందించాయి.

ఈ ప్రయాణంలో సహ ఉపాధ్యాయుల సహకారం, మార్గదర్శనం నాకు ఎంతో బలాన్నిచ్చాయి.

విద్యాబోధన విద్యార్థులకు కేవలం విజ్ఞానం అందించడం మాత్రమే కాకుండా, మానవీయ విలువలను పెంపొందించి, కుటుంబం మరియు సమాజాన్ని అర్థం చేసుకునే దృక్పథాన్ని కలిగించాలనే నమ్మకం నాది.

మా యాజమాన్యం సానుకూల వాతావరణం, ప్రతిరోజు ఎదురయ్యే సవాళ్లు, కొత్త అవకాశాలు నా వ్యక్తిత్వ వికాసానికి దోహదపడ్డాయి. విద్యార్థుల చిరునవ్వులు, వారి తల్లిదండ్రుల సహకారం ఈ ప్రయాణాన్ని మరింత మధురంగా మార్చాయి. అందరికీ నా హృదయపూర్వక కృతజ్ఞతలు.

THE POWER OF PRACTICE YOUR PATH TO FLUENT ENGLISH

English is the global language of communication, and learning it has become an essential part of our lives. Here are a few simple and effective tips to help you become confident in English.

✅ Listen every day: Watch cartoons, movies, or YouTube videos in English. Begin with subtitles and slowly try without them. Listen carefully to pronunciation and sentence patterns.

✅ Speak without fear: Don't wait for perfection. Speak with friends, family, or even yourself. Every mistake helps you learn.

✅ Read simple texts: Storybooks, textbooks, short articles, and comics help you build vocabulary and improve grammar naturally.

✅ Learn new words daily: Write 5-10 words, make your own sentences, and use them in conversation. Remember to begin sentences with capital letters and follow correct punctuation.

✅ Think in English: Try to think directly in English instead of translating from your mother tongue.

Practice a little every day, and you will see big improvement!
